

Dow Europe GmbH
Bachtobelstrasse 3, P.O. Box
CH-8810 Horgen
Switzerland

Javier Constanter

Commercial Vice President
Packaging & Specialty Plastics EMEA

Javier Constanter is the EMEA Commercial Vice President for the Packaging and Specialty Plastics Business of The Dow Chemical Company. This international business group brings together a rich portfolio of expertise, technologies, products and services focusing on a broad range of applications across the packaging, adhesive, infrastructure, hygiene, consumer and transportation markets.

Constanter joined Dow in 1989 in Buenos Aires, Argentina, and worked in various leadership positions across Sales and Marketing serving a variety of businesses in Latin America and Europe. He was named in his current position in 2011. Central to Constanter's policy is collaborating with all value chain partners and develop better, more sustainable packaging. Additionally, he has a strong focus on emerging regions and is Dow's business ambassador for sub-Saharan Africa.

Constanter holds a Bachelor's degree in chemical engineering from the Universidad de La Plata, Argentina, and an MBA from the Instituto Altos Estudio Empresariales - IESE, Argentina. He serves as a member of the Board of Directors of Equate / TKOC and EMC Equate Marketing Company. In 2018 he was elected President of PlasticsEurope and Constanter is a member of the World Plastics Council.